St. John Armenian Church Sanctuary and Museum Tour

Our Greater Detroit Community is so rich in its many diverse cultures. We all have benefited from this environment of a multi-textured fabric of people, foods and traditions. It is in this precious mix of cultures that we would like to share our ancient Armenian Culture with you and your group.

As part of our upcoming Armenia-Land of Noah's Ark Festival on Wednesday, September 22 to Sunday, September 26 we would like to invite you to a special event at St. John Armenian Church taking place on Wednesday, September 22 at 10 am. We are offering a tour of the sanctuary of St. John Church and the Alex and Marie Manoogian Museum followed by a buffet lunch.

ST. JOHN ARMENIAN CHURCH OF GREATER DETROIT

“The Church with the Golden Dome”, St. John Armenian Church dedicated to St. John the Baptist, was designed as a monument and a testament to Christ and the enduring and eternal faith of the Armenian people. Just as churches were built in the mountainous regions of Armenia and soared above the surrounding landscapes, St. John Armenian Church thrusts its golden dome skyward ninety-three feet above the ground.

ALEX & MARIE MANOOGIAN MUSEUM

Visitors to the Alex and Marie Manoogian Museum will experience the scope of Armenia's fascinating history and culture through exceptional artifacts, some dating back to the 7th century B.C. North America's largest Armenian Museum houses hundreds of artifacts and paintings, each with a story to tell. The eight galleries offer a unique glimpse of Armenia's past and present.
